

Society

THE most elaborate dinner that has ever been given in Honolulu was the orchid dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Tenney at their beautiful Colonial home on the corner of Pensacola and Lunallilo Sts. on Friday evening. One was almost breathless with admiration on entering the dining room. The large table arranged to accommodate the eighteen guests and their host and hostess was covered with lavender orchids. In the center of the table was a large fancy basket containing these exquisite and rare flowers, while from the chandeliers were streamers of smilax caught here and there with these flowers. The damask cloth was completely hidden by orchids, sprays of maidenhair ferns and strands of smilax. Overhead were suspended baskets of orchids and baskets of maidenhair fern. We all know that orchids are considered so precious in Honolulu that to possess one or two sprays is considered lucky. Think of entering a house that was simply banked and filled with these flowers—for this decoration was not confined to the dining room, for the drawing room was equally as beautiful in its adornment of orchids. Mr. Tenney is an orchid fancier, his green houses are the admiration of all who visit them. In fact they are considered one of the show places of Honolulu. Mr. Tenney had these choice flowers cut to grace his home when this dinner was given in honor of his two intimate friends, Captain and Mrs. Matson. The dinner was served at seven o'clock. Monogram place cards in violets were used. After dinner the remainder of the evening was devoted to music and bridge. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Tenney, Captain and Mrs. Matson, Mr. and Mrs. Breeze, Doctor and Mrs. Charles Bryant Cooper, Major and Mrs. George Potter, Mr. and Mrs. E. Faxon Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Kiehn, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Focke, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wilder, Mrs. Zabriske and Mr. Potent-hauer.

Mrs. F. M. Swanzy's Bridge Party.
Mrs. F. M. Swanzy entertained informally at bridge Wednesday. Large bouquets of Duchess roses and violets were awarded as prizes. Quite a novelty was introduced, for not the guests possessing the highest scores were awarded these choice flowers, but each guest was presented either with a large corsage bouquet of pink roses or fragrant violets. Later in the afternoon tea and refreshments were served on the lanai. Among those who enjoyed Mrs. Swanzy's hospitality were Mrs. Breeze, Mrs. Matson of San Francisco, Mrs. Arthur Marx, Mrs. Corwin P. Rees, Mrs. Reid (who is spending the winter at the Moana Hotel), Mrs. Harvey Murray, Mrs. Edward Tenney, Mrs. Herman Focke, Mrs. C. B. Wood, Mrs. Arthur Brown and Mrs. Zabriske.

Mr. and Mrs. Dowsett's Poi Supper.
Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dowsett entertained on Thursday evening at a poi supper. Thursday being St. Patrick's Day all the decorations were carried out in green in honor of the Irish saint. The table was covered with tropical foliage, maile leis were found at each place, and worn during the evening by the guests. Real horse shoes wrapped with St. Patrick's green ribbon were used as place cards—the horseshoe was used as a symbol of the good luck that was wished to each guest present. After supper a number of rubbers of bridge were enjoyed by those present. Among Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dowsett's guests were Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilder, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Tenney, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baldwin of Maui, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Widemann, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Holloway, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Kiehn, Miss Violet Makae, Miss Margaret Walker, Miss Agnes Walker, Mrs. Dowsett, Mr. Harry Whitney, Mr. Hobby Walker and Mr. Herbert Dowsett.

Miss Margaret Castle's Luncheon.
Long-stemmed American Beauty roses graced the luncheon table Tuesday at which Miss Margaret Castle presided as the hostess Tuesday afternoon at her beautiful home at Wai-kiki. The following boys of young girls were seated at the flower bedecked table: Miss Margaret Castle, Mrs. Gustav Schaefer, Mrs. J. W. Waldron, Miss Irmgard Schaefer, Miss Josephine McClennan, Miss Vera Damon, Mrs. Harold Castle, Miss Mae Damon, Miss Nora Sturgeon, Miss Beatrice Castle, Miss Julia White.

Mrs. Samuel Wilder's Luncheon.
The violet luncheon given Wednesday by Mrs. Samuel Wilder was one of the beautiful affairs of the week. Covers were laid for ten. The complimented guests were Miss Matson and Miss McMahon of San Francisco, Miss Matson, who is an extremely pretty girl, looked beautiful in a wisteria colored satin princess effect, heavily embroidered. Miss McMahon was stunning in a French lingerie gown hand embroidered and trimmed in medallions of real lace. After luncheon an impromptu musical program was rendered. Among Mrs. Wilder's guests were Miss Lurline Matson, Miss McMahon, Miss Wilhelmina Tenney, Miss Violet Makae, Miss Alice Macfarlane, Miss Vera Damon, Miss Cordelia Gelman, Miss Mae Damon, Miss Alice Roth, Miss Margaret Castle and Miss Daisy Gras.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Mott-Smith's Dinner.
Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Mott-Smith entertained at dinner. The table was decorated in carnations and smilax. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Mott-Smith, their house guest Mrs. Melle; Miss Lili Paty, Mr. Alfred Brock and Mrs. Pierce.

Supper Dance at Country Club.
The twenty-four guests that were invited Monday evening to Miss Wilhelmina Tenney's supper dance enjoyed the evening thoroughly. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Castle, and Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Schaefer chaperoned on this occasion. The Country Club, situated in the picturesque Nuuanu Valley, made a beautiful setting for the affair. The club house rooms, including the dining room, were elaborately decorated in Japanese lanterns and trinkets, while the dinner was not a Japanese affair. All the decorations were Japanese except the beautiful pink roses that decorated the tables. The decoration were so cleverly arranged that one could readily believe that they were dining in the heart of the Flower Kingdom. The guests were seated a seven o'clock at five small tables. After dinner dancing was indulged in until a late hour. Among those present were Miss Tenney, Miss Matson, Miss Zabriske, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Castle, Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Schaefer, Miss Jung, Miss McNab, Miss Julia White, Miss Violet Makae, Miss McMahon, Miss Alice Macfarlane, Miss Jessie Kennedy, Mr. Harold Castle, Mr. Gustav Schaefer, Mr. William Roth, Mr. Guy Macfarlane, Mr. Richard Wright, Mr. Herbert Dowsett, Mr. Oliver Lansing, Mr. Sherwood Lowrey, Mr. George Brown, Mr. Bert Petrie, Mr. Frank Armstrong and Mr. Arthur Mackintosh.

Mrs. Herman Focke's Luncheon.
Mrs. Francis M. Swanzy was the complimented guest at a luncheon Tuesday which was given by Mrs. Herman Focke at her Nuuanu Valley home. A dozen friends of the guest of honor were bidden to the affair. Tiffin was served at one o'clock and the beautiful table with its trimmings of lavender tulle, broad lavender satin ribbon and violets was greatly admired. This was really a bridge luncheon, for directly after the repeat bridge whist was indulged in. Those present were Mrs. Herman Focke, Mrs. Francis M. Swanzy, Mrs. Corwin P. Rees, Mrs. Samuel Wilder, Mrs. Arthur Brown, Mrs. George Potter, Mrs. E. R. Stackable, Mrs. James Wilder, Mrs. E. Faxon Bishop, Mrs. Edward Tenney, Mrs. Samuel Dunning, Mrs. Charles Wright, Mrs. Andrew Fuller and Miss Margaret Walker.

Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin's Dinner.
Mr. and Mrs. George Perry, Mrs. Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McDonald and Mr. William Roth enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baldwin at a dinner Tuesday evening that was given at the Moana Hotel. The circular table at which the guests were seated was bedecked with Jacque, minor roses, with dainty place cards to match. Coffee and liquors were served on the spacious lanais of the hotel. After dinner the party enjoyed the belmy evening by motoring around Diamond Head and up to the Pall.

Picnic Party at Waialeale.
The beautiful suburban home of Allen Herbert was the scene of gaiety on Saturday evening the twelfth of March, when two dozen young people with their chaperone motored to this Sylvan spot, which is an ideal place for an outing. The party arrived

SOCIAL CALENDAR FOR THE PAST WEEK

Saturday
Violet luncheon at the Young. Mrs. Charles Wilder's bridge party.
Sunday
Dr. and Mrs. Cooper's picnic. Captain and Mrs. Marx' supper.
Monday
Supper dance at Country Club. Mrs. Dougherty's bridge luncheon. Army top at Moana Hotel.
Tuesday
Miss Margaret Castle's luncheon. A. Burchfield's luncheon. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baldwin's dinner.
Wednesday
Mrs. Francis Swanzy's bridge party. Mrs. Samuel Wilder's luncheon.
Thursday
Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dowsett's poi supper. Mrs. James Hough's dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Mott-Smith's dinner. Mrs. and Miss Sewall's dinner.
Friday
Mr. and Mrs. Edward Tenney's dinner. Dr. and Mrs. Herbert's dinner.

about five o'clock. After a plunge in the deep pool they were ready to do justice to the delicious supper provided, which consisted of many delicate as well as substantial edibles. After supper dancing was indulged in until about eleven-thirty, when the party returned to town in their motor cars. Those present were Mrs. Matson, Mrs. Breeze, Mrs. Zabriske, Mrs. Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. Peoples, Mrs. Elizabeth Church, Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Schaefer, Miss Julia White, Miss Zabriske, Miss Lurline Matson, Miss McMahon, Miss McNab, Miss Zingunt, Miss Jessie Kennedy, Mr. George Brown, Mr. Oliver Lansing, Mr. Sherwood Lowrey, Mr. Guy Macfarlane, Mr. Ralph Clark of Tacoma, Wash., Mr. Richard Wright, and others.

Violet Luncheon at Young Hotel.
Mrs. Howard, Mrs. McNab and Miss McNab entertained delightfully Saturday at a violet luncheon. The affair was given at the Young Hotel out of compliment to the friends that had entertained this trio of pretty women during their visit with Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Young. The luncheon was served at one o'clock and the guests were seated at two large circular tables. One table was banked with delicate pink asters and violets combined with trailing streamers of violet tulle. The second table was decorated in violets and violet asters and smilax, and hand-painted heads ornamented the place cards. Those present were Mrs. McNab, Mrs. Howard, Miss McNab, Mrs. Sullivan, Miss B. Ruth Young, Mrs. Arthur Brown, Mrs. Arthur Wilder, Mrs. Harry Lewis, Mrs. von Hamm, Mrs. Arthur Borg, Mrs. Edward Tenney, Mrs. George Herbert, Mrs. J. Morton Riggs, Mrs. Frederick Klamp, Mrs. Robert Atkinson, Mrs. Arthur Wall, Mrs. Mammie Phillips, F. J. C. Hagena and Miss Alice Macfarlane.

Mrs. James Dougherty's Luncheon.
Monday Mrs. Frederick Damon was the complimented guest at a bridge luncheon given by Mrs. James Dougherty at her pretty home on Kinau street. The color scheme for the luncheon was green and white. Beautiful monogrammed place cards were utilized. Covers were laid for eight. After the luncheon was partaken of the remainder of the afternoon was devoted to bridge. Mrs. Dougherty's guests were Mrs. Frederick Damon, Mrs. F. J. C. Hagena, Mrs. J. Morton Riggs, Mrs. Harvey Murray, Mrs. Harold Giffard, Mrs. Grossman and Miss Irene Dixon.

Dutch Supper.
Sunday evening Captain and Mrs. Marx entertained eighteen young people at their home on Bingham street at a Dutch supper. The affair was given in honor of seven officers of the U. S. Marine Corps who were on their way to the Philippines. The supper was an extremely enjoyable affair.

On the steamer Mongolla was Paymaster E. T. Hall, U. S. A., a thorough passenger for the Philippines, who was at one time stationed at Honolulu and who was very popular among the fair sex, but averse to matrimony. At last he was the target for Cupid, and is now on his way to Manila, accompanied by his wife.

Laden with leis and flowers which were brought to the steamer by loving friends, Miss Helen Quarels and Miss Gemma Wadman, with their chaperone, Miss Crouse, sailed on the Alameda on Thursday en route to Berlin, Germany, where they will study music. On their arrival in San Francisco they will proceed direct to Boston, Mass., where they will sail April 2nd on the steamer Romantic for Naples.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY
Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box.
PARIS MEDICINE CO., St. Louis, U. S. A.

Her Easter Bonnet Will Be A Real One This Year

THE edict has gone forth in Paris—the hat is out of style, and the bonnet's you will see it everywhere. The picture shows an early straw importation in a delicate tone of rose, the sort our grandmothers used to wear. Notice the wide taffeta strings matching the thing. Just wait till spring and you will see it everywhere. Notice the wide taffeta strings matching the thing. Just wait till spring and you will see it everywhere. Notice the wide taffeta strings matching the thing. Just wait till spring and you will see it everywhere.

HEALTH HINTS.

Moderation in eating and drinking will go far to keep the body young and healthy. Three simple meals a day, alcohol in the strictest moderation, laughter's meat in small doses—make these your daily rules.

It is far better to let five hours elapse between meals than two and a half. "Snacks" and titbits between meals are simply deadly.

If we eat too much we put an undue strain on the digestive organs. Dyspepsia, so common in middle life, is the forerunner of many other ills which are all the outcome of poisons circulating in the blood—poisons which are derived from the products of incomplete digestion.

Make a habit of enjoying good, plain fare. One of the first signs of approaching old age is fastidiousness over meals.

Lastly, establish regular habits if you wish to keep young and healthy. Make a point of regular meals, regular exercise, regular recreation, of course regular work also.

The morning bath is a habit which should always be kept up, while regular hours of sleep are essential if you are a worker and lead a busy life.

Many girls who have to use their eyes much in typing or dressmaking are often worried by their eyes getting red and tired looking and the lashes falling out. The following method acts almost as a charm in causing the eyes to lose their redness and making the lashes thicker: Before retiring gently dab the eyelids with lukewarm milk and water till the hot, inflamed feeling begins to go. Dry them with a soft white silk handkerchief, close them and smear a little pure cold cream along the edges of the lids with the tips of the fingers. Repeat this several times, taking care not to rub the eye or letting any of the cream get into the eye. In the morning you will be surprised to see how much stronger your eyes look, and in a week the improvement in the thickness of the lashes will be marked.

Italy. From Naples they will journey to Rome, tour France and from there proceed to Berlin, where Frau Harum, nee Leslie Wright, formerly of this city, has secured rooms for them at the Garten Haus, which is one of the most exclusive boarding schools in Germany. Miss Quarels is the daughter of Judge and Mrs. Quarels, and Miss Wadman is the oldest daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Wadman of this city. Both the young girls were very popular and they will be greatly missed in the social circles of Honolulu.

Mrs. and Miss Sewall entertained at dinner Thursday evening at the Moana Hotel. The color scheme was white and green. The affair was given in honor of Mrs. Alley, Miss Alley and Mr. Alley of Boston, Mass. Among those who partook of Mrs. and Miss Sewall's hospitality were Doctor and Mrs. Judd, Miss Christman, Mrs. Alley, Miss Alley, Mr. Puffer, Mr. Wale and Mr. Alley.

Mrs. Charles Wilder's Bridge Party.
The bridge party given by Mrs. Charles Wilder on last Saturday was keenly enjoyed by the entire circle of friends that were present. Handsome prizes were awarded on this occasion. The house was exquisitely decorated with potted plants and cut flowers. After the scores had been counted and

Social Qualities

EVERY MOTHER SHOULD SEE THAT HER DAUGHTER POSSESSES THEM.

THANK goodness we are getting away from the idea that to be frivolous is wicked, and nowadays up to date parents insist that their children shall face life with a laugh rather than a serious face and that they shall have accomplishments as well as virtues.

This question of accomplishments is a very important one in a world which is selfish and exacting and doesn't want to give without receiving in return.

Who has not seen the wallflower girl who when others were entertaining the company replied solemnly, "I have no parlor tricks!" which trite saying veiled very thinly the fact that she was secretly envious of the cleverness of the others and wished she could unlimber and do something herself.

Now, whose fault is it—the girl's? No, indeed—her mother's. No doubt that estimable maternal relative was of the sort who believe it their "duty" to see that the child tells the truth, is neat, punctual and obedient. No frills was her motto, but a thorough drilling in the three R's, and as she often observed to her little girl, "Handsome is as handsome does."

Well, that may have been the case in her day, but just now we are thinking a great deal of the veneer, it would seem.

It is very easy for a clever mother to cultivate social talents in her children. Most little ones show a leaning in some direction, and it is a matter of patience and tact to cultivate this. The main thing is to free the child from the dreary curse of self-consciousness, which prevents so many women from making a success, no matter how gifted they are.

Encourage the children to give little entertainments for the family in which each one does his part.

Never laugh at mistakes, but enter into the spirit of the children themselves. Home concerts are splendid things, with mother playing the piano and every one, even the tiniest tot, joining in the singing.

Make the boys and girls feel they have no right to hide their gifts, but should give them unselfishly toward the entertainment of their relatives and friends. In this way you will bring to them the spirit of true social life, which is an even mixture of give and take.

companion. Her letters to him describing her travels add to the humor of the story. While Mrs. Yates' books are intended for children, grown-ups have found them intensely interesting.

Captain Haight was a returning passenger on the transport Thomas, and is being welcomed home by a host of friends. Captain Haight, who belongs to the Fifth Cavalry, was unfortunately enough to have a horse fall on him while he was playing polo. He was confined to his room for months. At last the doctor ordered him to the States for medical treatment. His friends are rejoiced that he has recovered the use of his limb and has discarded his crutches permanently.

Mr. and Mrs. Bergia of the Waikiki Inn entertained a large party at a dance last Monday night. The affair was given in honor of Mrs. Anna Kennedy, who is a sister of the hostess. Some seventy dancers attended and a long program was gotten through by midnight, when the party broke up. The dance hall was beautifully decorated and the floor was in perfect order. A quintet club supplied the music which was of the best kind and during the evening light refreshments were served.

Mr. A. Lewis, Jr., returned from the coast on the Mongolla, after a brief visit, and has taken his position as vice-president of the Bank of Hawaii.

Captain and Mrs. Matson and Mr. and Mrs. Breeze will entertain at a large dinner party at the Moana Hotel, Tuesday evening.

Mr. E. J. Lord returned Friday on the Wilhelmina from a business trip to the coast.

Mr. F. J. C. Hagena left Tuesday on the Kinau for a business trip to Kauai.

There is Great Danger in Drinking City Water

Why Take This Chance?

A Telephone Message will bring you

PURE, SPARKLING

DISTILLED

WATER

Or a Case of delicious Soda or Ginger Ale

RYCROFT'S FOUNTAIN SODA WORKS

Phone 270